SYNOPSIS

Abasiri (50) and Mani (25) arrive in the capital city from a distant village to identify a dead woman. 15 years after parting from him, Abasiri recognizes his wife Suddhi on a mortuary table.

Penniless and destitute, Abasiri uses every trick he knows to persuade the owner of a small ice-cream van (Lenin) into carrying what he believes is an empty coffin on the hood rack of the van back to the village.

The two men ply Lenin with Alcohol and Opium in order to appease him with the result that the coffin flies off the hood of the van and onto the ground. The truth is revealed...
