KARNAVAL

SYNOPSIS

Alis is a 36-year-old guy who lives in his car since his father kicked him out of the house. He shaves on the street, eats the food his mother brings over to his car, and applies to job adverts that his mother marks in the newspaper for him. After a series of rejections, he finds himself working as a door-to-door salesman for carpet cleaners, which brand name is KARNAVAL. An unusual bond forms between Alis and "Karnaval" who becomes his new mate.

One day a girl walks into Alis' life: Demet, a 33-year-old strong and brave woman working in his father's wedding hall as a cake maker.

These two lonely protagonists, drifting around due to the 'blows of their families' find each other thanks to Karnaval carpet-cleaner.
